

Summer Reading Assignment

Egg-cellent Reading Fun!

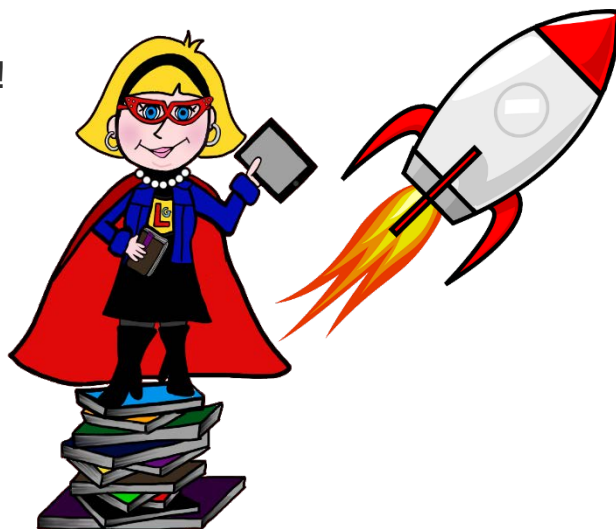

I hope you have an “EGG”-cellent summer and are chirping and clucking that you are heading to 5th Grade next year! We are going to have a great year of discovery! I sure am excited to discover everything about YOU!!! Our theme next year is “Out of this World Superheroes!” In Science, we will be incubating chicken eggs! So, over the summer you are required to read the following books: “The Secret Chicken Society”(you will take an AR test on this book) and Eyewitness Books- “Endangered Animals”. Their assignment is to come to class with ONE question that is not asked in the book about endangered animals and which endangered animal they would like to know more about, and we will research in class, the first week of school.

The first book that you have to purchase by the 1st week of school is (www.amazon.com or a used book store/library) “The Hoboken Chicken Emergency” by Daniel Pinkwater ($5.99) and (3rd week of school) “Fly Guy Presents Dinosaurs” by Tedd Arnold (we will be doing a dinosaur dig!) ($3.99) For Social Studies we will be reading the book: “You Wouldn't Want to Be an American Colonist” by Jacqueline Morley ($7.19)
Please do not read it at home, we will be reading it in class.

no ebooks, must be paper books ☺

Can't wait to see you in August!
